The WEINMANN group is growing closer together

(Hamburg) – In the future, a production line for the development service provider Corscience GmbH & Co. KG will be available in the state-of-the-art production of the Hamburg-based medical product manufacturer, WEINMANN Emergency Medical Technology GmbH + Co. KG in Henstedt-Ulzburg. This is not without reason: The Corscience GmbH & Co. KG has been part of the WEINMANN Group since its founding in 2001, and in the last few years, the cooperation has expanded even further.

The Corscience GmbH & Co. KG company is located in Erlangen and has grown in recent years to 80 employees. As a development service provider for medical technology, the company manages a wide variety of customers and projects. The Hamburg-based company WEINMANN Emergency focuses on the preclinical care of emergency patients with the product lines for ventilation and defibrillation / monitoring.

The opening of the Corscience production line at the WEINMANN Henstedt-Ulzburg plant testifies to the healthy growth and synergies between the two companies. "In Erlangen, they did not have enough space anymore and we do have the infrastructure. Not just for Corscience, by the way. We can provide for more customers and still have spare capacity," states Dennis Horstmann, head of the production location of Weinmann EMT GmbH + Co. KG in Henstedt-Ulzburg.
